Overview:

On record, the One day Webinar on the topic “ COMMUNICATION SKILLS AS AN EFFECTIVE RESOURCE FOR LEARNERS” organized on 25th of February by the Department of English SAS, AV, Campus took reverence and joy in addressing the key notespeaker of the day Dr. Harshini, from Hindustan College, Chennai. The webinar began top notch at 10am that included a welcome felicitation by the Department Head, Mrs. S. PadmaRagam of SAS. Followed by the session was taken over in time by the speaker explaining the Artefacts of Communication and its daily usage in practical life. The entire session was captured with multiple perspectives displayed with creative PowerPoint slides simple and succinct. The session over took the importance of Communication Skills as a resourceful etiquette for learners globally. Creative PPT’s, Audio and Video Clippings were displayed exhibiting E-Notes and E-exercises for participants to enjoy the inputs displayed.

Interactions were the boons of the session that ignited the participants on adequate resources required to develop ESL Learners globally. Contents on Communication Skills were an enriching talk of the day. The Director and Dean of SAS, VMRF, Dr. R. Shanmugavalli welcomed the gathering thanking all the department heads, Faculty and students from various colleges and institutions. The one hour talk ended with an open pace of student cum faculty interactions succinctly.

The session exposed the loop holes of how effective communication can be efficient through easy tools of strategies applications and methods practiced in the long run. Focus was given on ESL learners to identify their weakness and develop their strengths. To conclude the whole two hours of Webinar developed a platform of motivation to second language learner's awareness that adapting a different language is a change that changes a life and its dimensions of living in tranquillity.
